

I'll Find You (Song of the Mellotron)

When you're lost and all alone
Far from home or payphone In the woods or grocery store by the pier or on lake shore Don't you know, some way I'll find you Passing through the trees

If you find someday your muse has flown and your song has lost its mellow tone when your guiding star has waned and gone (just) Hear my voice and this mellotron
And you'll know, some way I'll find you Winding through the trees

When you're lost and all alone
swarmed by fans in the megadome lift your head and sing this song and you'll know, I'll never be too far along each time, you call me Ooooo, ooooo
Don't ya know, some way I'll find you
